RACES AT KALIHI BAY CAUSE SPORT AND FUN

The annual Kamehameha regatta under the auspices of the Kamehameha Aquatic Club was held at Kalihi Bay all day yesterday. There were five races on the program, but one interesting event was added during the forenoon.

The crowd that turned out to see the canoe races had a difficult time in finding the starting point, as the road leading to the landing was a lengthy and difficult one. The people arrived in boats and on the shore during the forenoon. There were a few tourists among those who took in the races, and they enjoyed watching the men in the canoes. The clubhouse is situated on the island of Kahakaula. Tables were spread for the big luau, which many attended.

One of Young Brothers' launches arrived about 10 o'clock with the officials on board, and soon after they landed the first race was started.

The Lanakila crew was the winner of the day, taking the two important races after a close finish. The members of this crew are said to be Kona boys, and for that reason many of the other entries evidently got "cold feet" and so did not enter canoes in the races.

The sailing races were watched with interest. All the canoes had to tack a couple of times before they could round the post, as the wind was blowing very strongly during the afternoon. Among those who arrived on the launch were Sheriff Jarrett, Supervisors Kruger, Murray, Eben Low and Sam Dwight.

During the forenoon Supervisors Murray and Kruger began to argue about canoe racing, and it finally ended in each making up a crew of four paddlers, and a race was arranged between the two crews, in which both Murray and Kruger took part. The agreement was that the loser had to pay for a dinner at the Union Grill, and Kruger was the loser.

The races were run off as follows:
First Race.
Ladies' two-paddle canoe; free for all—Entries: Maikai Fine, K. A. C. crew; Lanakila, K. A. C.

There were only two canoes in this event out of five which had entered. Cockett sent them off together, and they kept close to each other from the start. At the beginning the Maikai Fine rammed into the other canoe, and it took them some time to get on their feet. The crowd on the beach had a way again. Both boats turned the stake at the same time, and the race home was a dandy. The Lanakila won by a boat's length. Mrs. Kahinawe steered well for the winning crew. There was much laughter during the race, as the crews had a difficult time bucking against the wind.

Second Race.
Men's four-paddle canoe; free for all. Entries: Maikai Fine, K. A. C.; Lanakila, K. A. C.

This event was expected to have four entries, but only two showed up. The interest in this event lacked some on account of there not being more canoes in the race.

Maikai Fine took the lead at the start and led all the way out. When the first stake was reached the crew of the leading boat made an attempt to turn, but soon found out that it was the wrong one, so headed out again for the second stake. The Lanakilas gained on them by this time, but their opponents came in close touch with them. The race home was a pretty one, for both canoes were about even most of the way. Towards the end the Lanakila pulled away and won by half a length. The winning crew was as follows: A. Kaalhele, D. Kahelela, G. Kula, D. Mokuell.

Third Race.
Men's six-paddle ancient canoe, for championship of all Hawaiian outriggers; free for all—Course, half a mile; prize, cup or cash and leis.

There was only one six-paddle canoe—the Kalei—on hand ready to start in this event, and in order to make the race a go two four-paddle crews were put up against the Kalei.
Entries: Kalei, K. A. C.; Maikai Fine, K. A. C.; Lanakila, K. A. C.
The Maikai Fine led all the way out and turned the post first. On the homeward stretch the Kalei crew pulled ahead and won easily from the Maikai Fine.

Special Race.
The next event was a special race between a crew captained by Supervisors Kruger and Murray. D. Isenberg was a member of the Kruger crew and worked hard.

Cockett started the crews off in good style and they worked for all they were worth. They kept close to each other till the stake was reached, when Murray and his crew pulled ahead while Kruger was dumped into the water. The crowd on the beach had a fine time watching the race. Murray crossed the line first, and Kruger has to pay the dinner bill at the Grill for losing the event. This race ended the sports for the morning.

At noon the tables were ready for the big crowd who were to take part in the luau. It was a Hawaiian dinner made up in the best Hawaiian style. Fish and lobster were plentiful, and everybody left the table well satisfied with the spread.

Fourth Race.
Sailing between modern canoes, first class, for championship of all Hawaii; free for all—Course, two and a half miles. Entries: Diamond Star, Alex. Smith Jr.; Kiohala, Moses Punohu; Makali, Joseph Barry; Lellehua, H. H. Helela; Pearl Hunter, K. A. C.

Promptly at 1:45 this event was started, and it was a beautiful sight to watch the canoes sail up and down the bay. There were five entries which went to make the event interesting. The Kiohala, captained by Moses Punohu, took the lead from the start and won easily from the other canoes.

The Diamond Star finished second, but was disqualified for crossing the channel, so the Lellehua took second and Makali and Pearl Hunter finished in order.

Fifth Race.
Sailing; second-class modern canoes; championship of Hawaii—Course, same as fourth race. Entries: Nai Aupuni, S. Kipi; Lellehua, H. Helela; Kawahine Uui, Gallula; Kiohala, M. Punohu; Hanamikiol, J. K. Opi; Makali, Joseph Helela; Pearl Hunter, K. A. C.

This, the last event on the program, was competed for by the same canoes as in the fourth race. The Diamond Star won after a fast trip. Lellehua came in second, with the Makali third. As a whole, the races were good, and the sailing races were especially interesting.

Advertising Talk

By Merl.

With the growing of Honolulu to a city of one hundred thousand and population there will naturally follow an increase in the number of business and manufacturing houses. An old established house can rely on its past reputation but new houses must build up a trade, and in building up a trade there is a business rule of three. This rule is ABILITY, INTEGRITY, ADVERTISING.

A merchant to succeed in business must have special ability for line of business in which he is engaged. This ability must be backed up with INTEGRITY, and the two characteristics will be found of very little use unless standing on a solid foundation of ADVERTISING.

Any man who has something to sell to the people in any community, if he has a GOOD ARTISTICITY, if he DOES NOT MISREPRESENT in any way, CAN MAKE ADVERTISING PAY. Advertising cannot be gone at in a haphazard way and expect that any old copy will do. There has got to be just as much stick-to-it-iveness applied to advertising as there is applied to the business itself.

THE HOME NEWSPAPER, the paper that goes into the home and stays there, is the quickest way to reach the people.

SKELETON THOUGHT TO BE DUNHAM'S

SAN JOSE, May 8.—An effort will be made by the sheriff of Santa Clara county to identify the bleached bones and rusty pistol discovered Monday in the chaparral in Pine canyon. Monterey county, as those of "Jim" Dunham, who killed the McGlincey family at Campbell in 1896 and who eluded bloodhounds and a thousand armed pursuers.

The bones were discovered by a man crawling through the brush in an almost inaccessible part of the Urey ranch. The skull is almost perfect, but the spinal column and the bones of the feet and hands are missing.

A hole, inflicted by a bullet, extends through the skull from a point above the right ear to the base of the brain on the left.

The pistol found beside the bones was an old style five shooter. Two of the chambers had been fired and the other three were loaded.

The wiping out of the McGlincey family aroused intense excitement throughout California, and rewards totaling $15,000 were offered for Dunham, dead or alive.

The Portuguese government has issued a decree ordering proceedings against the bishop of Beja for embezzlement.
